

January 2003

Steve Morris appointed as Site Operations Manager

Fast growing, direct marketing and contact centre specialist, Inkfish, has appointed Steve Morris as Site Operations Manager at their Brighton contact centre. Responsible for over 600 members of the Inkfish team, he joins from SITEL where he was site general manager. The Brighton facility was opened in July 2001 and is the newest call centre of Inkfish's four key sites, including Slough, Redhill and Nottingham. He says: "I am delighted to join such a successful and forward thinking company. My experience within the industry will add to Inkfish's wealth of expertise and will ensure we continue to meet and exceed our clients' high expectations."